Board of Regents Procedures Regarding Medical Leaves of Absence

The universities comprising the Connecticut State Universities are committed to supporting the health and well-being of their students. The universities provide a wide range of counseling services to address the mental and physical health needs of their students, including counseling, psychiatric services, consultation, and referral assistance. The goal of the universities is to enable each and every student to function fully as a member of the academic community.

Students are permitted to take voluntary leaves of absence for physical or mental health reasons. If a student so requests, the Student Health Services or Counseling Center will assist a student in determining whether to take a voluntary medical leave of absence and in arranging that leave. A student on a voluntary medical leave of absence may maintain contact with, and may visit, campus friends and teaching, residence, counseling, and administrative staff.

However, occasionally students experience medical, psychiatric or psychological conditions which cause them to pose a threat to the well-being of themselves or others. Should such a circumstance arise, and should the student refuse to take a voluntary leave of absence from the university, an involuntary medical leave of absence may be recommended by a physician or therapist on the staff of the Student Health Services or the Counseling Center.

A student may be placed on an involuntary medical leave of absence if it is determined that he or she poses a significant risk to the health or safety of himself or herself or to the health or safety of others. Such a determination may be based on evidence that a student has threatened or attempted suicide or has threatened, attempted or inflicted other serious bodily harm upon him or herself, has threatened, attempted or engaged in homicidal or other violent behavior towards others in the community, or has exhibited behavior which poses a significant threat to his or her health and well-being.

The following procedures shall be followed in imposing an involuntary medical leave of absence:

1. When in the opinion of a professional member of the staff of the health or counseling center an involuntary medical leave of absence should be imposed, the recommendation for the imposition of such a leave of absence shall be presented as soon as possible to the chief student affairs officer or to his or her designee. The reasons supporting the recommendation shall be set forth therein.
2. Upon receipt of the recommendation, the chief student affairs officer shall confer with other university personnel, if appropriate. The chief student affairs officer shall also, if possible, notify the student that the recommendation has been received and shall advise the student, in writing, that he or she has three (3) business days within which to schedule a meeting to confer with the chief of student affairs officer and present additional documentation for consideration.
3. During the meeting, the chief student affairs officer shall discuss with the student the circumstances giving rise to the recommendation, the implications of voluntary and involuntary leaves of absence, and the procedures for returning from an involuntary leave. If appropriate, the chief student affairs officer shall suggest to the student that he or she voluntarily take a leave of absence from the university. The affected student may be accompanied during the meeting with the Vice President of Student Affairs by a support person of his or her choosing. The support person shall not be entitled to speak during the meeting.
4. If, at the conclusion of the meeting, the chief student affairs officer determines that an involuntary medical leave of absence should be imposed, or if no meeting is requested by the student in accordance with section 2 above, the involuntary leave shall be imposed. The chief student affairs officer shall notify the student in writing of the imposition of the involuntary leave of absence. The notice shall advise the student of the anticipated duration of the involuntary leave (which shall be, at a minimum, the remainder of the semester if the involuntary leave is imposed for mental health reasons) and the conditions under which the student may seek to return from involuntary leave. The notice shall also advise the student that during the period of the involuntary leave, he or she may visit the campus only with the prior written authorization of the chief student affairs officer.
5. With the consent of the student, or when deemed appropriate to do so and in accordance with the university's student records policy and applicable state and federal law, the chief student affairs office may notify a parent, guardian, or spouse of the leave and may request that a parent, guardian, spouse, or other appropriate person make arrangements to remove the student from the university.
6. A student may appeal the imposition of an involuntary medical leave of absence to the President or his or her designee. However, at the direction of the chief student affairs officer, the leave of absence may remain in effect pending the outcome of the appeal. A student wishing to appeal the imposition of an involuntary leave must do so in a written letter of appeal, delivered to the President within three (3) business days of receipt the notice of imposition of the leave. The letter of appeal shall set forth the reasons why the student believes that the imposition of the leave is not warranted. After reviewing the letter of appeal, the President, or his or her designee, may meet with the student and consult with the chief of student affairs officer and other university officials, as he or she deems necessary. The decision of the President or his or her designee shall be final.
7. A student who has been placed on a medical leave of absence, whether voluntary or involuntary, shall be eligible to return to the university according to the following:
 - a. A student placed on an involuntary medical leave of absence may request to return to active status on or after a date that has been specified at the time the involuntary leave is imposed. Normally, involuntary leaves are imposed for a minimum of one (1) semester, but no longer than a full calendar year. In unusual cases, and if requested by the student, an involuntary medical leave of absence may be extended to for the duration for two (2) academic years. In the event the student is unable to return within the two-year maximum limit, the student shall lose matriculation status. Should a student lose matriculation status, reentry to the university may only be achieved by reapplying for admission to the institution, being accepted for admission, and entering the university on the terms and conditions, including academic requirements, set forth in the applicable catalog in effect at the time of admission.
 - b. A request to return from an involuntary medical leave of absence may only be made during the 30-day period immediately preceding the beginning of the semester in which the students seek to enroll.
 - c. A student who wishes to return to the university shall:
 - (i) Notify the university health or counseling services of his or her desire to return and the specific semester for which the reentry is sought.
 - (A) In the case of a physical health condition, the student shall notify the Student Health Service.
 - (B) In the case of a mental health condition, the student shall notify the Counseling Center.

- (ii) Provide written documentation to the health or counseling service that the condition which led to the imposition of an involuntary medical leave of absence has been treated by a licensed health care provider. The documentation shall consist of a written record, signed by the treating health care provider, indicating: date of original visit; diagnosis; treatment; compliance and adherence with treatment plan; assessment of any need for on-going medical/psychiatric supervision or treatment; and any recommendation regarding the readiness of the student to return to the university. The documentation must not be initiated more than thirty (30) days prior to the beginning of the semester within which the student seeks to re-enter the university.
- d. Upon receipt of the documentation outlined above, the university, through either the office of the Student Health Service or the Counseling Center, as applicable, will
- (i) Initiate a timely review of the student's request and the supporting documentation provided by the treating health care provider;
 - (ii) Conduct a re-entry assessment conference with the student and a qualified staff member from the Student Health Service or the Counseling Center, who shall not be the same individual as previously provided direct service care to the student;
 - (iii) Conduct a re-entry assessment conference with the Director of Residence Life (or his or her designee), in the case of students who are seeking on-campus housing;
 - (iv) As necessary and if warranted, consult via e-mail or phone with the health care provider who provided the supporting documentation, for purposes of coordinating a continuing treatment plan and addressing any conditions which may be imposed upon re-entry;
 - (v) Forward a recommendation to the chief student affairs officer (or his or her designee), relative to the student's preparedness to reenter the university community. This recommendation may include conditions which are designed not only to support the student in a successful reentry transition, but also to safeguard the university community. Conditions which may be imposed include but are not limited to: restrictions on full-time or part-time status in the semester of return; restrictions on housing eligibility; limitations in course registration options; and requirements set forth in a behavioral contract. No condition shall be assigned which is punitive in intention.
- e. The chief of student affairs officer (or his or her designee) will consider the recommendation, consult with those who prepared the recommendation, and if needed, arrange a personal interview with the student and/or request a consultation with the dean/chair of the student's major department.
- f. The chief student affairs officer will, based on the totality of the information available, including the student's prior academic history, make a decision on the reentry request. The student will be informed of the decision in writing.
- g. In the event the request is denied, the student will be informed of the reasons for that denial and be advised as to what he/she will be required to do before another request for re-entry will be entertained.
- h. In the event the request is granted, the student will be informed in writing, and any conditions which are being assigned (see subsection d(v) above) shall be outlined fully for the student, including the date on which the conditions shall no longer apply.
- i. The decision of the chief of student affairs official shall be final.

CAMPUS THREAT ASSESSMENT

In accordance with Public Act 13-3, Eastern Connecticut State University has established a trained threat assessment team. Threat Assessment Team members include the Vice President for Student Affairs, Provost/Vice President for Academic Affairs, Vice President for Finance and Administration, Vice President for Equity and Diversity, Director of Public Safety, the Dean of Students, and the Director of Counseling and Psychological Services.

This team has two important functions:

The first is to heighten awareness of all faculty and staff regarding potentially at-risk students and other individuals on campus through effective educational strategies. The University recognizes this concept as an important safety measure designed to educate faculty and staff on how to recognize and respond to students and other individuals who may be at risk of harm to themselves or others.

The second is providing a practical, strategic and coordinated approach to threat assessment. Once receiving information of a potential threat, the team shall identify, investigate, assess, and manage any interpersonal or behavioral threat to the safety and wellbeing of campus students, faculty, staff and visitors. Counseling and Psychological Services, the Student Intervention Team or the Human Resources Office will notify the Threat Assessment Team of threatening or violent behavioral issues brought to their attention.

The Threat Assessment Team strives to intervene in issues before they evolve into a crisis. Team members have received specific threat assessment training, which allows them to carry out security protocol identified in the Critical Incident Management Plan. The Team has adopted a systematic process to address campus risks and seeks to identify and prioritize the most significant issues before conducting a causal evaluation and engaging in coordinated intervention. The Threat Assessment Team will not only address specific threats, but also general risks and identified vulnerabilities.

RECOGNIZING THE WARNING SIGNS OF THREATENING OR VIOLENT BEHAVIOR

As a member of the Eastern Connecticut State University community, you may come in contact with individuals experiencing personal distress or difficulties coping with university life, academic, work related or personal issues. These individuals may reveal problems to you through personal communication or indirectly by their general behavior.

While there is no exact method to predict when a person will become violent, an individual may display one or more warning signs before engaging in violent behavior. While these signs do not necessarily indicate that an individual will become violent, this type of behavior should trigger concern as they are usually exhibited by people experiencing stress or interpersonal problems. Research has indicated that individuals who consider carrying out targeted violence don't just "snap." Most will exhibit signs or triggers:

- Plan or prepare for the act.
- Consider the act beforehand.
- Discuss the act with others.
- Demonstrate troubling behavior to others.
- Appear desperate or verbalize desperation prior to an attack.

Please be aware that the behavior(s) identified above call for your action and support. It is very important to emphasize that everyone has a role in promoting campus safety.

If so, the complaint will be handled through the existing University student conduct process for resolving complaints against students.

If the complaint is one of the offensive behavior or verbal harassment that does not meet the "fighting words" test, and is therefore not covered by the Student Conduct code, the complainant and the person alleged to have committed the offense will be referred to the Office of Equity and Diversity. Efforts will be made to resolve the complaint through mediation, conciliation, or education. This conciliation procedure will not result in a written record.

If the complaint is one of discrimination, sexual harassment, or conduct which meets the "fighting words" test, the complaint may be resolved through the University's Procedures for Investigating Discrimination and Harassment Complaints.

Complaints involving offensive words or conduct, including those which do not meet the "fighting words" test, should be resolved by the Office of Equity and Diversity by mediation, conciliation, or education. Use of the conciliation procedure will not result in a written record.

Student E-mail Accounts

At Eastern Connecticut State University, each student is issued a life-time University e-mail account for use not only throughout the time he/she is registered for classes at the University, but after graduation. This is the student's official Eastern e-mail address and is the address the University will use for all student-related electronic communications related to academic and University business. E-mail is a valuable mechanism and is the official form of communication by the University with students. The University will only correspond electronically to a student's Eastern e-mail account. Accordingly, students are expected to check their e-mail on a frequent and consistent basis in order to stay current with University-related communications. Students must also insure that there is sufficient space in their accounts to allow for e-mail to be delivered and have the responsibility to recognize that certain communications may be time-critical. The e-mail account is the Student Technology Account that will be used to access computers in the computer labs, Blackboard Learning Management System (LMS), and to connect to the network from the residence halls.

Eastern Statement on Discrimination and Sexual Harassment

Policy Statement

It is the policy of Eastern Connecticut State University that unlawful discrimination is prohibited. Consequently, it shall be a violation of University's policy for any member of the University community to discriminate against any individual with respect to any terms, conditions, or privileges relating to employment or attendance at the University because of such individual's race; color; religion; sex; national origin; age; sexual orientation; or any other conditions established by law.

Sexual harassment is a type of discriminatory behavior. It is the policy of Eastern Connecticut State University that no member of the academic community may sexually harass another. The following definition of sexual harassment, consistent with federal and state laws, is adopted to help individuals recognize such behavior.

Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature constitute sexual harassment when: 1) submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment or academic performance or advancement, 2) submission to or rejection of such conduct is used as the basis for employment or academic decisions affecting such individual, or 3) such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or academic performance, or of creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working or academic environment.

Gender harassment is a form of sexual harassment that consists of discriminatory behavior towards an individual based on gender. It includes the use of sexist or discriminatory language, illustrations, examples, and gestures.

Confidentiality

Eastern Connecticut State University will assure confidentiality within the limits of the law. Dissemination of information related to any specific complaint will be limited to the extent possible in order that the privacy of all individuals involved is safeguarded.

Procedure

Individuals suspecting harassment or discrimination, or considering the filing of a complaint, may do so by completing the Bias Incident Reporting Form. The report is submitted directly to the Office of Equity and Diversity, who will respond via email or phone within 48 hours when the University is open to conduct additional inquiry and ensure the well-being of the affected individual(s) and campus community.

Individuals will also be advised that they have the right to pursue a complaint through the Connecticut Commission on Human Rights and Opportunities or the federal Equal Employment Opportunities Commission.

Except for students filing complaints against university professors from whom they are currently taking classes, complaints should be filed as soon as possible, and within 30 calendar days following the complainant's knowledge of the alleged discrimination or harassment.

4 - Policy on Non-Discrimination

Email as an Official Form of Correspondence

Background:

Effective August 1, 2009, an email will become an official form of correspondence within Connecticut State Colleges and Universities (CSCU). There is an expanding reliance on electronic communication among students, faculty members, and other employees throughout the CSCU motivated by the convenience, speed, cost-effectiveness, and environmental advantages of using email rather than printed communication. Because of this increasing reliance and acceptance of electronic communication, email will, from this point forward, be considered an official means for communication within the ConnSCU. Therefore, official notifications may be communicated via email.

1. University and CSCU office use of email: E-mail is an official means for communication within the CSCU. Therefore, the universities and the System Office will send communications to students, faculty, and other employees via email and will expect that those communications will be received and read in a timely fashion.
2. Redirecting of email: Faculty and staff members will not be allowed to enable automatic email redirection to another email address. Those persons who use manual email redirection from their official address to another email address (e.g., @aol.com, @hotmail.com) do so at their own risk. It is the responsibility of the individual faculty or staff member to take whatever steps may be necessary with his or her personal email account to allow for the receiving of email forwarded from the official CSCU email account. These steps may include, but are not necessarily limited to, adding the official email address to a 'safe-senders' list and/or adjustment of any spam filters. Redirecting email does not absolve anyone of any responsibilities associated with communications sent to his or her official email address. The University will not be responsible for the handling of email by outside email providers.
3. Expectations regarding the use of email: It is recommended that faculty members check their email at least as often as their most frequent class meets, in recognition that certain communications may be time critical. Other employees should check their email regularly consistent with their work patterns.
4. Educational uses of email: Faculty members may determine how an email will be used in their classes. It is strongly recommended that if faculty members have email requirements and expectations, they communicate such requirements to their students by specifying these requirements in their course syllabi.
5. Appropriate use of email: In general, email is not appropriate for transmitting sensitive or confidential information unless an appropriate level of security matches its use for such purposes.

Forward all questions and comments to the undersigned. Thank you.

Policy on Solicitation

The University does not endorse solicitation, distribution of promotional literature or sales of any nature on campus by or for non-college organizations and is not responsible for any such representation.

Outside individuals or groups who wish to disseminate information of a political nature must have prior permission.

Policy Statement on Persons with Disabilities

Eastern Connecticut State University is committed to the goal of achieving equal educational opportunity and full participation for persons with disabilities. Thus, no qualified person shall be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or otherwise be subjected to discrimination in any program or activity on this campus.

A physical or functional impairment is a disability only to the extent that it contributes to cutting the person off from some valued experience, activity, or role. Higher education is therefore especially important to people with disabilities, since it aims to increase every student's access. Improving access for students and employees means removing existing barriers that are physical, programmatic, and attitudinal; it also means taking care not to erect new barriers along the way.

As this University strives to accommodate people with disabilities, services and programs which best promote full participation and integration of people with disabilities may be necessary to complement and support the regular services and programs of the institution.

Therefore, Eastern Connecticut State University commits itself to the process of identifying barriers to the full participation of people with disabilities and of developing strategies to overcome those barriers.

Procedure for Students with Disabilities to Request Academic and/or Housing Accommodations

The Office of AccessAbility Services (OAS) guides its work with a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion under the strategic plan of the University and the Division of Student Affairs. Universal Design, Social Model of Disability, and the concept that Disability is Diversity and that access is a human and civil right are also guiding models within the OAS. OAS provides guidance to ensure equal access to all educational programs and activities at Eastern. The OAS facilitates accommodations and support services to students with documented disabilities and temporary injuries.

The philosophy and mission of OAS is to facilitate both identification and removal of barriers (systemic, physical, attitudinal, institutional, and internalized) that impact folks with disabilities on Eastern's campus. The removal of barriers will promote the full participation and ensure access of individuals with disabilities. This will create a campus climate and culture that supports Disability is Diversity.

1. Submit Documentation of Disability

Eastern students can register with the OAS using the Student Self-Disclosure Form link https://easternct-accommodate.symplicity.com/public_accommodation/ to submit documentation of a disability.

2. Check Your Eastern Email to Confirm Intake Appointment

After your documentation has been submitted and reviewed by OAS staff, you will receive an email on your Eastern email account. If your documentation is sufficient, an OAS staff member will schedule an intake appointment with you through email.

3. Attend the Intake Appointment

The intake appointment consists of discussing potential barriers, securing paperwork and reviewing accommodations that promote full participation. During this appointment, an OAS staff member will discuss protocols and the process of requesting accommodations each semester.

4. Request Accommodations Each Semester

Please note that academic accommodations must be requested each semester, as they do not roll over. OAS staff will discuss this process with you during your intake appointment.

5. Keep Documentation Updated

OAS staff might ask you to submit updated documentation if your documentation if it is not current. Additional information regarding documentation can be found on the OAS website, under "Documentation Guidelines."

Student On-Campus Housing - Entry and/or Search Policy

The University recognizes the need for a balance between its right to maintain an orderly educational and residential environment and its students' constitutional right to privacy. A goal of the University is to preserve the health and safety of the resident while maintaining an environment that facilitates safety and scholarship.

With this in mind, at times it may be necessary for University staff to enter a student's room, or for University staff to escort non-University personnel to an apartment or residence hall room. Reasonable efforts shall be made to notify the resident(s) in advance of any entry. A student's room shall not be entered without consent except as follows:

- (a) repairs, maintenance, building systems and building support inspections, facility improvements;
- (b) recovery of University/State-owned property not authorized for use in the assigned space;
- (c) fire, health and safety, and cleanliness inspections made periodically, as well as at hall closing/vacation periods;
- (d) when there is reliable information that an emergency exists (including but not limited to fire, accident, sickness, or danger to the health and welfare of residents);
- (e) when there is reliable information that such entry is necessary for the purpose of removing items including, but not limited to, weapons or other contraband which pose a threat to the health and safety of students, faculty, staff, or visitors to the campus.
- (f) when there is reliable information that a University policy is being violated;
- (g) entries and searches conducted by authorized law enforcement officials under circumstances authorized by law.

1. Student organizations have the right to examine and discuss all questions of interest to them, to express opinions publicly and privately, to support causes by orderly means, to organize public demonstrations and protest gatherings, and to exercise the right of petition. However, this does not give individuals or groups the right to deprive others of the opportunity to speak or be heard, to invade the property of others, to damage state property of others, to disrupt the regular and essential operation of the University, or otherwise interfere with the rights of others.
2. Subject to the control of the Connecticut State Colleges and Universities Board of Regents for Higher Education and the authority of the board delegates to the University president, students have the right to participate in the formation of university policy. General and specific responsibilities of the University governing bodies are explicitly outlined in their constitutions.
3. Students are allowed to invite and to hear any person or group of their choosing. Those routine procedures required by the University before an event is held are designed to ensure that there is orderly scheduling of facilities and adequate preparation for the event and adequate security of individuals and University property. Sponsorship of guest speakers or groups does not necessarily imply approval or endorsement of the views expressed, either by the sponsoring group or the University.

Student Publications

1. Student publications are understood to be those financed by student fees and are free from censorship and advance approval of copy. Editors and managers are free to develop their own editorial policies and news coverage. An advisor serves as a resource to student staff in apprising them of copy which may result in any of the following charges: libel, indecency, undocumented allegations, and attacks on personal integrity and/or harassment. The freedom of student editors entails corollary responsibilities to abide by the canons of responsible journalism. The respective staffs of student publications have responsibility for election and removal of their own editors.
2. Editors and managers of student publications shall be protected from arbitrary suspension or removal from their respective positions solely because of editorial policy or content.
3. All student publications shall explicitly state on their masthead or flags that the opinions therein expressed are not necessarily those of the University or the student body.

The request must include specific information on what the volunteer's duties will be (including the driving of Eastern vehicles with passengers) and contain assurances that the faculty or staff member has verified that the individual's operator's license is valid. The faculty or staff member should also make their department head aware of the volunteer request and provide a copy to them of the official request.

Also, before final approved volunteer driver status can be obtained, the volunteer must view the on-line Driver Safety PowerPoint, pass the test, complete Eastern's University & State-Owned Vehicle Safe Driver Contract, have their operator's license verified by an appropriate University
