Key Terms within Review, Promotion, and Tenure and User Roles

Key Terms within Review, Promotion, and Tenure (RPT)

- Review, Promotion & Tenure (RPT)

Interfolio Review, Promotion & Tenure is an online platform for carrying out formal faculty reviews in a shared governance context, built to help academic institutions ensure that these processes are transparent, equitable, efficient, and well-documented.

- Units

A digital representation of your institutional hierarchy. Within the hierarchy, the different tiers will determine scope. Administrators can be assigned to any given unit. Ex. Institution > School > Department.

- Templates

The building blocks of the RPT module that allow administrators to create standardized, repeatable processes for all review types at their institution, colleges, schools, and departments. Templates can be created centrally or copied down to specific unit for customization.

- Cases

The lifecycle of a candidate as they progress through a standardized review cycle. You might think of this as a virtual 3-ring binder used to hold both candidate and committee materials for a review.

- Packet

The collection of materials by which a candidate is being reviewed (documents and other files). The packet is divided into sections which can be worked on and submitted independently of one another. All materials submitted in the packet will be copied to the candidate's Dossier for record keeping.

- Committees

Groups of users that can review the candidates' case at a given step of the review process. Committees can be:

- Standing (managed from the central committee tab)
- Ad Hoc (case specific)
- Individual assignment (committee of one).

- Dossier

A tool for all faculty to store and manage job, fellowship, and promotion or review documents in one place. The Dossier will act as the central archiving tool for your candidate's materials. All information submitted for a review will be copied into the faculty Dossier for archiving or reusability purposes. Your Dossier is private and portable, meaning it cannot be seen by your institution and it is yours to keep even if you change employment.

User Roles within RPT

- Institutional Administrators

Institutional Administrators are the users granted the highest permissions in RPT. Not only can they act as an Administrator for any template or case at the institution (except where recused), but also they are the only users able to control the institutional branding, enable/disable comments and downloads, create a default list of case statuses as well as the voting options for committees.

- Administrators

Administrators can access documents, e-mail candidates and committees, and move a case forward or backward. Administrators are the only users who can create templates, forms, and cases for the units to which they have access.

- Committee Managers

Committee Managers have the power to move a case either backward or forward after a committee has finished reviewing. In addition, Committee Managers have communication powers within the system; they can e-mail both the candidate and committee members from within the product, record committee votes in the program, and add files to a case. In order to make a user a Committee Manager, an Administrator must manually select them to serve this role.

Committee Members

Committee Members have the most basic permissions within the system. They can view a candidate's packet, download documents (if allowed), and leave comments (also if allowed) on the particular case they have access to.

View and Manage Your Case List

You will find the list of cases you are evaluating, managing, or administering on the Case List page.

What cases are visible to you: You see all the cases to which you currently have access on the Case List. When a case is moved to a committee you are not on, or workflow step that you have been recused from, the case will no longer appear in your list. Likewise, when a case moves to a committee or step you have access to, the case will become visible.

Access your list of cases

1. Select "Cases" from the left hand RPT navigation menu to view a list of all the cases to which you have access

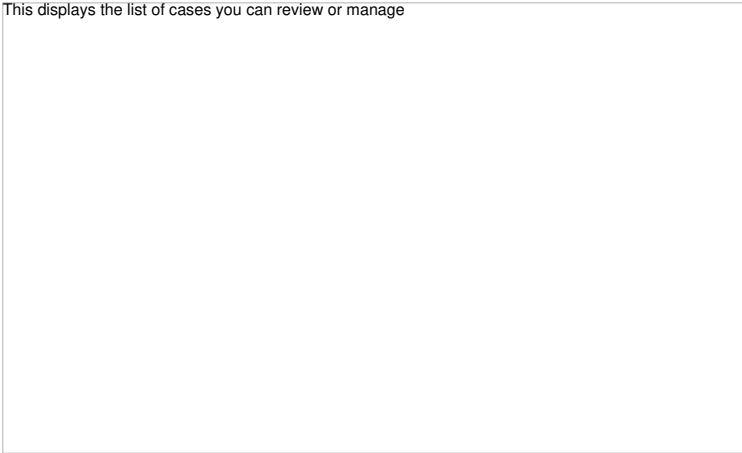

Tip: You can also look for the name of the case you want to view in your list of Action Items. Clicking the name of the case here will take you directly to the case for that candidate.

Home - Home - Interfolio

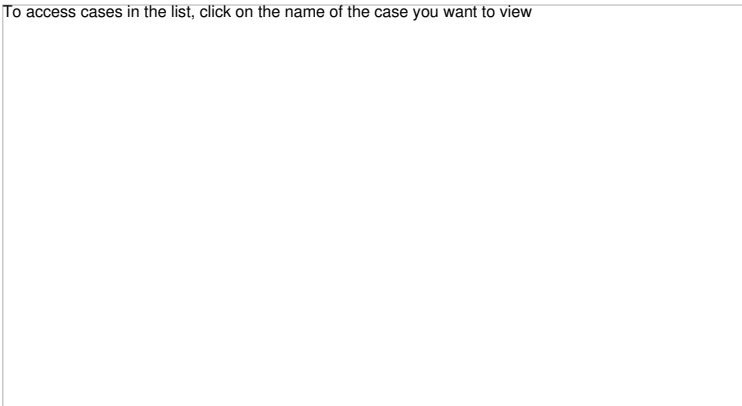

2. This will open the Case List where the cases you can access will appear listed in a table:

This displays the list of cases you can review or manage

3. To access cases in the list, click on the name of the case you want to view

Filter the list

Click the "Filter" button to open and closes a right-hand drawer where you can select to filter the list by unit, case type, status, and active or closed cases

Important Note: The available options for filtering the case list are determined by your user role. The screenshots below depict the case list as seen by an Administrator.

- Administrators see filters for Unit, Type, Status, Active or Closed
- Committee Managers see Unit, Type, Status
- Evaluators see: Type, Status

Note: that when selecting a unit as a filter from the dropdown, you can choose to "include child units" in your filtered list

The filters you select will appear across the top of the list

Note: that when you toggle on Include Child Units it becomes one of the filters used to filter the list.

Click "Reset Filters" to remove the selected filter

Read and Evaluate Case Packet Materials Using the Document Reader

Interfolio Review, Promotion, & Tenure users can read and annotate case packet materials online using our built-in document reader.

Promotion reviews can involve hundreds of pages of packet materials. Our viewer allows committee members to load these materials into their browser, making it convenient to access all materials in one centralized location with no paper involved (unless of course your institution allows downloading and you want to download and print documents).

Committee members can also add annotations to materials in a candidate's file, and export those annotations in a PDF file for offline access. This makes it easy to highlight the most important parts of a packet and track and revisit thoughts when evaluating materials.

1. Navigate to your institutional account

2. Select "Cases" from the left-hand navigation menu

3. Click the name of the candidate to open the case page

On the "Case Materials" tab of the case page, click "Read Case" to load all accessible case materials into our document viewer where they can be viewed online. You can also click on the title of a document to open that specific document in the document viewer.

4. The document viewer displays all materials organized by sections. If the pdf contains readable text, you may be able to search it with the "Search PDF" tool.

Packet sections are bookmarked in the column to the left

Pages in a document are also are bookmarked, including section headers in a document

Videos will also display in the viewer

Links to Webpages appear in the viewer but open the webpage in a new browser tab
